Wedding Frit Orders

Thank you for choosing The Glass Asylum to be a part of your happy day!

All the color options for your ceremony are at the two links below.

Keep in mind! If we do not have a particular color in stock, it can take up to 2 weeks to arrive. To order the color, please call or email us the name and product number of the two colors and we will send you an invoice for your frit!

Transparent means light can pass through. Opaque means you are not able to see through it. If you chose one color of each, best success comes from the opaque being the lighter color.
